Murchison, the pastor, was greeted by a large congregation and preached a most interesting and impressive sermon on the subject of "Faith." While walking over and around this beautiful, historic place nature naturally reverted to our boyhood days, when we frequently visited that section and spent some of our happiest days. Many changes have occurred since then and nearly all of the older citizens of that section have gone to their eternal homes. Both Anderson and Belton regret to learn of the recent removal of Robert M. Baker and family to Tallapoosa, Ga. Mr. Baker has a responsible position on the board of the Southern Bleitch Works, of Richmond, and has taken this step in order to locate his family at a central point in his territory. They will be missed, especially in the mutual and literary worlds of our community. Years ago Mr. Baker's splendid voice was a feature in the choir of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Baker's success in the literary field has been marked, considering the fact that she refuses to allow her pen to encroach upon her household duties, which she considers paramount to all others. Besides having recently won several prizes, she will have a serial story in The Southern Presbyterian, beginning some time in June. Both Mr. and Mrs. Baker are worthy members of good, old Carolina families, and as such we commend them to the best people of our sister State.

Hyatt, president of the State Good Roads Association, of Columbia, and County Supervisor Vandiver. The speeches of these gentlemen were listened to attentively, and made a most favorable impression. By a unanimous rising vote the convention adopted a resolution in favor of a special 5-mill tax levy for good roads. A permanent county good roads association was formed by the election of H. H. Watkins president and A. M. Carpenter secretary. An organization will be perfected in every township in the county, and it is hoped that every citizen will take an interest in it.
